DAMES DECLARE COOK'S CLAIM IS WITHOUT PROOF

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 21.—The data submitted by Dr. Frederick A. Cook to the University of Copenhagen are not sufficient to prove his claim to the discovery of the North Pole, according to the report of the commission, made to-day to the university. It is understood there was no disagreement.

The commission's report declares that the documents do not carry conviction and that the records and observations are entirely insufficient to warrant the verdict that he discovered the Pole.

The report created little surprise in official circles. A sensational feature of the findings is that Dr. Cook had no original observations or documents, not even his famous diary on which he based many of his claims.

The decision of the commission was reached yesterday, but a secrecy that had been ordered was maintained till the time of the official announcement of the result to-day. The commission's work was completed quickly, because Dr. Cook's documents, it was learned to-day, consisted of nothing more than his story, published when he first returned, paraphrased.

The members of the Commission of Examination from the University were Professor Ellis Henningsen, professor of the astronomical observatory, Dr. C. F. Poché, attached to the astronomical observatory, Gustav Holm, explorer, Professor A. T. Nansen, president of the Museum of Natural History, Director Royal of the Meteorological Office and Dr. F. A. Rasmussen of the Land Observatory.

The papers submitted, which were accompanied by a letter from Dr. Cook, included a typewritten report by his secretary, Walter Lonsdale, which, made also a footnote page, and a typewritten copy of Cook's statements, made by the secretary. This document, which makes eleven pages, includes a description of the expedition from March 18, 1906, to June 13, 1906, the same year the period in which Cook claimed to have gone from Narsarsuaq to the Pole and back to some place west of Axel Heiberg.

Lonsdale declared to the commission that the original documents were sent to Europe by another order, and that they would arrive at the university shortly. This move was precautionary, he said. He also showed a letter from Dr. Cook, postmarked March 10, 1906, in which he stated that he had sent the original documents to the university.

Report Was Forecast.
Among the people there was considerable excitement in the report for the university, the first claimant to the discovery of the Pole were still strong.

COOK'S STANDING NOW SWEEP AWAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—To-day's action of the University of Copenhagen, in effect, destroys Cook's last vestige of fame in the scientific world as the discoverer of the North Pole. He was previously recognized as having reached the "Pole" and as the first man to reach the North Pole, but in the Danish capital and in New York City, where he was presented with the freedom of the city after his return from the North Pole, he was now considered a fraud.

It will be remembered that shortly after Cook's famous message from the North Pole, the work of the Danish expedition of centuries past had finally borne fruit.

Five Years by the Smoke in the AT YUNKERS
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Five persons, an entire family, were burned to death in a burning house in Yorkville early today and were suffocated. Heavy work by the police and firemen saved the lives of twelve other tenants.

Thodore R. Fredericks, his wife and three children were the ones suffocated. While the blaze was at its height Police Chief Robert suggested that three other tenants carrying George W. Thompson, the bristling son of Thomas Thompson.

The Mrs. Thompson, a woman of 50, was free to move unharmed, and her husband and three children were saved. The three Fredericks children, who slept in the bedroom, were also saved. I WARNED THE WORLD ABOUT COOK, SAYS PEARY, NOTHING MORE TO SAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 21.—When Commander R. E. Peary was seen at his apartment here today and asked what he had to say about the findings of the university of Copenhagen, he said: "I warned the world about Cook, SAYS PEARY, NOTHING MORE TO SAY."

He said that he had written a letter to the world, warning them that Cook's claim was without foundation.

Fitzgerald's Campaign COUNCIL OF WAR BY FITZGERALD LEADERS AT BOSTON TAVERN

The first real council of war of the Fitzgerald forces was held this afternoon, when the ex-Mayor gathered all of the various ward leaders with him at a meeting in the Boston Tavern for the purpose of discussing ways and means.

The conference was unique for the Democrats, for it was the first time since the election of 1906 that the various ward leaders of the city were gathered together for a meeting of this kind.

FIRE WRECKS NEW HOME OF BOSTON ELKS

The fire was reported from the second floor of the St. James Hotel, at one time a part of Boston University, but now being remodelled for Boston Lodge No. 10 of the Elks, was caused by a gas stove.

The fire was said to have started from a salamander used in drying the plaster on the ceiling and was confined to the third floor, where little damage was done to the stairways.

The work of reconstructing the building was rapidly nearing completion. The workmen had just formally opened their new headquarters by the first of the year, but in all probability the original building was not proposed to survive after this.

Harry De Courcy, a bellboy, discovered the fire while on his way home. He saw the flames coming from the third floor and ran down on the third floor directly over the

The apparatus experienced much difficulty in getting over the hill on Beacon street and the fire had gained considerable headway before they arrived. The entire ladder of the third floor was blown down by flames coming from all the windows. Ladders were raised but the firemen found the fire could be fought with much more success from the inside and these were quickly taken down.

The clanking of the apparatus aroused several of the guests in the Parker House, who looked out at the chattering, inconsiderate apparatus make the hill. There was but little excitement in the hotel. The damage is estimated at $1,500.

DERBY, Dec. 21.—When it was known that President Taft was to pass through this city on his way to Watertown, Miss Lillie Flynn and Miss Elmer Johnson, pretty telephone girls in the local office, decided to take the same train Saturday and shake hands with the nation's executive.

When the regular express arrived at 7:30 with the President's car attached, the young women boarded the train. At Ausonda where the train was delayed for water ten minutes they paraded in front of the car in the hope that the President would appear, but on inquiry they were told that the President was still in bed.

"We'll see him if we have to go to Watertown," the girls declared. They boarded the train again and when a stop was made in Naugatuck the young women again alighted. They again walked back and forth in front of the President's car and just as they decided they would have to continue the trip, the President arose from his coach, clad in his pajamas.

The girls screamed and rushed for the Prattling.

 "Prattling" is a verb meaning to chatter or talk excessively. It is often used to describe a child or a person who is very talkative. The word is derived from the verb "prattle," which also means to talk or chatter. The suffix "-ling" is added to the root word to form the noun "prattling." The word is often used in a playful or humorous context.
